9. Historical significance (include explanation of themes checked above)

Col. Sullivan Burbank served 27 years in U. S. Army. Died during Civil War years.

This was a double house for many years; two family as far back as 1835 when Capt. and Mrs. Wm. Phelps rented one-half and the other half was lived in by the owner, Col. Sullivan Burbank.

(See reminiscences of Mrs. C.C. Goodwin, Lexington Historical Society archives.)

From Canavan Papers: 1806 map shows no house on the land owned by S. Hunt; 1808 Canavan map indicates house of J. Hunt.

In 1830, the house was "occupied by Huntington" who ran a private school. Jonathan Hunt was a wheelwright and practiced his vocation in a converted school-house (Mason Hollow School), which stood west of his house.

See archives of the Lexington Historical Society; and 1968 Massachusetts Historical Commission survey.
